Dear John,

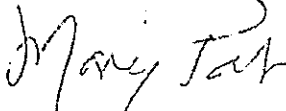

At last, we are moving into our beautiful new home, and we could not be happier! When we began this process with our first meeting in late 2012, who knew that not only would we finalize with a fabulous home, but also that we would make life-long friends in you, Doug and Audrey?

We had never built a home before, so to say that we were nervous about a long-distance building process is to put it mildly. However, from our first meeting with you and Doug, your professionalism, competency and simple friendliness won us over. For us, it was important to find a builder who not only knew more than we did, but also one who would actually listen to our ideas and concerns.

Once the process began in mid-2013, our numerous conversations had already established an excellent working relationship. Every phone call and email was answered immediately, easily allaying all questions and concerns. Each one of your sub-contractors exceeded expectations, and was readily available to reply to our questions. There was never a point when we felt we had made the wrong decision in signing up with Homes by JMC.

Who knew that building a custom home long distance could be so enjoyable? We now know, thanks to your team! We would do it all again!

All the best,

Mary Pat Marcello
